Dear Associate,

We write to advise that despite best efforts, the ACTU will not be in a position to finalise its witness statements and submissions in this matter by 24 April. This is largely due to the unavailability of some witnesses over the Easter/ANZAC Day holiday period. The ACTU expects that approximately 1-2 additional weeks will be required, but we will confirm this as soon as possible.

The ACTU respectfully submits that a delay of this nature is unlikely to cause the employer parties' prejudice, as the hearing is not listed until 10 October and the employer parties have until 25 August (on the current timetable) to consider and respond to the ACTU's case. We note that any request for an equivalent extension by the employer parties would not be opposed by the ACTU.

We have addressed this correspondence to the President in the absence of a Full Bench to consider amendments to directions at this time. The employer parties are copied.

Yours sincerely,

Sophie
