

Information note – Government responses to COVID-19 pandemic

Updated 9 April 2020

The Fair Work Commission will update this note regularly to keep subscribers informed of the latest developments.

The outbreak of the coronavirus (COVID-19) and the responses from governments, both federal and state, initially put restrictions on some businesses and then forced many to close, which has consequences for employees.

Measures taken to restrict gatherings and non-essential business

The Commonwealth Government has initiated the following guidelines for social distancing in order to stop or slow the spread of the disease:

- avoid handshaking and kissing;
- visit shops sparingly;
- consider whether outings and travel are necessary;
- reconsider non-essential business travel; and
- the suspension of non-essential gatherings for an initial period of 4 weeks.

On 13 March 2020, the Commonwealth and State Governments agreed to advise against all non-essential organised public gatherings of more than 500 persons, effective from 16 March 2020. This did not impact schools, workplaces, hospitals, public transportation, domestic travel and universities as well as public transient places such as shopping centres.

In addition, on 18 March 2020, non-essential indoor gatherings of more than 100 people (including staff) and outdoor activities of more than 500 people were not to be permitted. Essential gatherings include:

- public transport;
- medical and health care facilities, pharmacies, emergency service facilities;
- correctional facilities, youth justice centres or other places of custody, courts and tribunals;
- Parliaments;
- food markets, supermarkets and grocery stores, shopping centres; and
- office buildings, factories, construction sites and mining sites.

For outdoor gatherings of fewer than 500 people, there must be no more than 1 person per 4 square metres of ground space.

On 20 March 2020, the Commonwealth announced that there must be a density of no more than 1 person per 4 square metres of floor space for indoor gatherings.

The guidelines also explain that, from midday local time on 23 March 2020, restrictions on opening were placed on the following facilities:

- pubs, registered and licensed clubs (excluding bottle shops attached to these venues), hotels (excluding accommodation);
- gyms and indoor sporting venues;
- cinemas, entertainment venues, casinos and night clubs;
- restaurants and cafes restricted to takeaway and/or home delivery; and

- religious gatherings, places of worship or funerals (in enclosed spaces and other than very small groups and where the 1 person by 4 square metre rule applies).

Further measures, along with clarification of current guidelines, were announced on 24 March 2020 by the Commonwealth Government, which applied from 11.59pm local time on 25 March 2020.

Restrictions on opening were placed on the following facilities:

- food courts (takeaway and/or home delivery remain operational);
- auction houses, real estate auctions and open house inspections (with the exception of private appointments for inspection);
- outdoor and indoor markets will be a decision for each state/territory (food markets continue to remain operational);
- beauty therapy, tanning, waxing, nail salons, tattoo parlours, spa, and massage parlours;
- hairdressers and barber shops to only have appointments of up to 30 minutes and must abide by the 1 person by 4 square metre rule;
 - On 26 March 2020, the Commonwealth Government announced that appointments would no longer be limited to 30 minutes per patron (effective immediately) for barbers and hairdressers, but the 1 person per 4 square metre rule must be strictly observed.
- gaming or gambling venues;
- strip clubs, brothels and sex on premises venues;
- concert venues, theatre, arenas, auditoriums, stadiums (live streaming of a performance by a small group can be permissible with social distancing observed);
- amusement parks, arcades and play centres (indoor and outdoor);
- community and recreation centres except for those that host essential voluntary or public services, such as food banks or homeless services;
- health clubs, fitness centres, yoga, barre and spin facilities, saunas, bathhouses and wellness centres;
- boot camps, personal training operating inside (for outside events, limited to groups of no more than 10 people and social distancing must be exercised);
- social-sporting based activities and swimming pools;
- residential facilities, such as hotels, hostels, bed and breakfasts, campsites, caravan parks, and boarding houses will be a decision for each state and territory (excludes permanent residents and workers);
- galleries, museums, national institutions and historic sites;
- libraries, community centres, and youth centres;
- local government non-essential facilities and services (i.e., libraries and pools)
- community facilities (i.e., community halls, RSLs, PCYCs);
- weddings restricted to a maximum attendance of 5 people and where the 1 person per 4 square metre rule applies; and
- funerals restricted to a maximum attendance of 10 people and where the 1 person per 4 square metre rule applies.

In addition, a 'do not travel' ban on Australians travelling overseas will be implemented, with exemptions to citizens that ordinarily live overseas, where travel is essential or necessary, where travel is in the national interest, and on compassionate and humanitarian grounds. Further, measures will be taken to prevent price gouging and exporting products essential to preventing and controlling COVID-19.

On 27 March 2020, the Commonwealth Government announced additional restrictions for return travellers and enforcement that require travellers returning from overseas to undertake a mandatory 14 days of self isolation at designated facilities and will be enforced with increasing compliance checks by state and federal police. Beginning from 11.59pm on Saturday 28 March 2020, anyone who returns to Australia will be forced to quarantine in a hotel or other accommodation for 14 days. They will not be allowed to return home.

On 29 March 2020, further measures from the Commonwealth Government advised people to stay at home unless partaking in one the following:

- shopping for what you need - food and necessary supplies;
- medical or health care needs, including compassionate requirements;
- exercise in compliance with the public gathering requirements;
- work and study, if it cannot be done remotely.

Playgrounds, skate parks and outside gyms in public places will be closed and bootcamps reduced to 2 persons, including the trainer.

The announcement limited both indoor and outdoor gatherings to a maximum of 2 persons with exceptions limited to the following:

- people of the same household;
- funerals – a maximum of 10 people;
- weddings – a maximum of 5 people; and
- family units.

In addition, the National Cabinet endorsed advice from the Australian Health Protection Principal Committee (AHPPC) that:

- where vulnerable workers undertake essential work, a risk assessment must be undertaken with consideration of the characteristics of the worker, the workplace and the work;
- special provisions apply to essential workers who are at higher risk of serious illness and, where the risk cannot be sufficiently mitigated, should not work in high risk settings; and
- international flight crew and maritime crew are granted a concession from the mandatory 14 day quarantine requirements.

On 29 March 2020, the Commonwealth Government also announced a range of short-term interventions within commercial and residential rental markets that involved a moratorium on evictions of both residential and commercial tenancies for the next 6 months, in cases where tenants are unable to meet their rental commitments due to the impact of coronavirus. The Government also encouraged commercial tenants and landlords to engage in discussions, supporting the survival of businesses and continuation of tenancies, including:

- tenants and landlords are encouraged to agree on rent relief or temporary amendments to the lease;
- the reduction or waiver of rental payment for a defined period for impacted tenants;
- the ability for tenants to terminate leases and/or seek mediation or conciliation on the grounds of financial distress;
- commercial property owners should ensure that any benefits received in respect of their properties should also benefit their tenants in proportion to the economic impact caused by coronavirus;
- landlords and tenants not significantly affected by coronavirus are expected to honor their lease and rental agreements; and
- cost-sharing or deferral of losses between landlords and tenants, with Commonwealth, state and territory governments, local government and financial institutions to consider mechanisms to provide assistance.

On 7 April 2020, the Commonwealth Government further announced that principles agreed on 3 April by the Commonwealth and state and territory governments would be implemented as a mandatory Code of Conduct \(the Code\) imposing a set of good faith leasing principles for application to commercial tenancies (retail, office and industrial), between landlords and tenants. The Code will be given effect through relevant state and territory legislation or regulation. The Code comes into effect on a date following 3 April 2020, with the specific date to be defined by each jurisdiction. The code will coexist with and complement these specific implemented state territory laws and regulations.

The code applies to:

- small and medium sized businesses (annual turnover of up to $50 million); and
- businesses eligible for the purpose of the Commonwealth Government's JobKeeper programme

The Code aims to manage the cashflow and financial risk on a proportional basis, seeking to appropriately balance the interests of commercial tenants and landlords. Key overarching principles include:

- landlords and tenants share a common interest in working together, to ensure business continuity and to facilitate the resumption of normal trading activities following the end of the COVID-19 pandemic;
- landlords and tenants required to discuss relevant issues, to negotiate appropriate temporary lease terms and work towards mutually satisfactory outcomes;
- landlords and tenants will negotiate in good faith;
- landlords and tenants will act in an open, honest and transparent way and provide sufficient and accurate information relevant to negotiations, to achieve outcomes consistent with the Code;
- arrangements agreed upon will take into account the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the tenants, specifically its revenue, expenses and profitability, and be proportionate and appropriate;

- parties will cooperate with each other in their respective dealings with other stakeholders (such as government, financial institutions and utility companies); and
- all premises and cases are different, and leases must be dealt with on a case-by-case basis.

The Code also outlines 12 leasing principles, to be applied as soon as possible on a case-by-case basis. They include:

- landlords must not terminate lease because of non-payment of rent during the COVID–19 pandemic period (or reasonable subsequent recovery period).
- tenants must remain committed to terms of their lease (subject to negotiated amendments). Failure to abide by substantive terms of leases will forfeit tenants' protections provided under the code.
- landlords must offer tenants proportionate reductions in rent payable (by way of waivers or deferrals) of up to 100 per cent of the usual amount, based on the reduction in tenant's trade. Waivers must be no less than 50 per cent of total reduction in rent payable. Regard must also be given to the Landlord's financial ability to provide reductions. If negotiated terms require repayment this must be done over an extended period and not commence until the earlier of the lease expiring or the pandemic ending. No fees, interest or other charges should be applied to waived rent and no fees, charges nor punitive interest may be charged on deferrals.
- deferrals must be amortised over the balance of the lease or within 24 months (whichever is greater).
- any reductions in statutory charges received by landlords (e.g. land tax, council rates) or insurance will be passed on to tenants in proportion as under the terms of the lease.
- landlords must not draw on a tenant's security for non-payment of rent.
- tenants should be provided the option to extend their lease for an equivalent period of the rental deferral or waiver.
- a freeze on rent increases for the duration of the pandemic and reasonable recovery period.
- landlords must not apply prohibitions or levy penalties should tenants reduce opening hours or cease trade during the pandemic.

Should landlords and tenants fail to reach an agreement on lease arrangements, the matter should be referred and subjected (by either party) to applicable state or territory commercial leasing dispute resolution processes for binding mediation.

On 2 April 2020, the Early Childhood Education and Care Relief package was announced, designed to ensure around 1 million families receive free child care during the COVID–19 pandemic and to support the early childhood education and care sector during the crisis.

From 6 April 2020, the Government will pay 50 per cent of services' fee revenue up to the existing hourly rate cap (based on a point in time at 2 March 2020, before parents started withdrawing children in large numbers due to the pandemic), so long as services:

- remain open unless closed on public health advice or for other health and safety reasons;
- do not charge fees to families (including out of pocket or 'gap' fee);
- prioritise care for children of essential workers, vulnerable and disadvantaged and previously enrolled children;

- continue to record the attendance of children; and
- comply with all other provider obligations including National Quality Framework and other relevant conditions of approval under Family Assistance Law.

The payment will be made directly and automatically to early childhood education and care services on a weekly basis and will be based on the number of children who were in care during the fortnight leading into 2 March (where attending services at the time or not).

- The Government will also make payments of higher amounts in exceptional circumstances, such as where greater funding is required due to an increase in enrolments to meet demand to address the needs of essential workers or vulnerable children.

The new system is initially for a period of 3 months and will be reviewed after 1 month, and an extension considered after 3 months.

The subsidy will be paid in lieu of the usual Child Care Subsidy (CSS) and Additional Child Care Subsidy payments and means testing will not apply to the new payment.

Up to and including 5 April 2020, services can waive the gap fees for families due to the impact of COVID-19, which can be backdated to 23 March 2020. Services should encourage families who have recently ceased their enrolment to re-enrol—enrolment will ensure families maintain CSS eligibility for when the regular child care system is reinstated.

The payments are designed to complement the JobKeeper payment and providers will also be eligible to receive the JobKeeper for eligible employees.

On 30 March 2020 a third stimulus package was announced including the planned introduction of a JobKeeper payment as well as changes to partner income testing for the JobSeeker payment.

JobSeeker recipients will have their partner's income test threshold temporarily increased to $79 762 per annum ($3068 per fortnight). Increasing the amount of people who will be eligible for the JobSeeker payment.

Subsequently on 8 April 2020, both houses of the Commonwealth Parliament passed the Coronavirus Economics Response Package Omnibus \(Measures No.2\) Bill 2020, which included amendments to the Fair Work Act 2009 (Cth) (the Act) and introduced the JobKeeper payment. These amendments along with the corresponding eligibility rules outlined the details of the JobKeeper payment. An exposure draft of the eligibility rules for the JobKeeper payment were released by Treasury on 8 April 2020.

- The JobKeeper Payment is a flat $1500 payment (before tax) per eligible employee, paid directly to businesses who then use it to subsidise the payment of their employee's wage and pay directly to eligible employees. It is designed to maintain the employment relationship between employers and employees.
- Affected employers will be able to claim a fortnightly payment of $1500 per eligible employee from 30 March 2020, for a maximum of 6 months. Businesses will receive the first payments in the first week of May. The jobkeeper scheme ends on 27 September 2020.
- Eligibility is dependent on employers having suffered a substantial decline in the projected GST turnover compared to a relevant comparison period's turnover. For entities with a turnover of over $1 billion, the reduction must be at least 50 per cent, for entities registered with the Australian Charities and Not-For-Profit Commission the reduction must at least 15 per cent, and for other entities at least 30 per cent.
- Full-time workers; part-time workers, sole traders, long-term casual employees (casuals who have been with their employer for 12 months or more and were employees of the business as of 1 March 2020), not for profit entities, New Zealanders on 444 visas, and migrants who are eligible for JobSeeker Payment or Youth Allowance (Other) will be eligible for the subsidy.

- Employees who have been stood down by their employer since 1 March 2020 will be eligible.
- If workers ordinarily received $1500 or more income per fortnight before tax, they will continue to receive regular income according to the prevailing workplace instrument, the JobKeeper Payments will subsidise part or all of their income.
- The payment is a minimum of $1500 per fortnight, before tax.
- Employees may be eligible for both JobSeeker and JobKeeper payments if they have been stood down. However, they would need to report their JobKeeper income to Services Australia, and are likely to no longer be eligible for income support as a result of receiving the JobKeeper Payment
- Superannuation payments will not be made on the JobKeeper Payment, it will be up to employers if they want to pay superannuation or any additional wage paid because of JobKeeper Payments.
- Amendments repealed core provisions of Part 6-4C of the Act by authorising an employer who qualifies for the jobkeeper scheme to:
 - give a jobkeeper enabling stand down direction to an employee, this can also include a reduction in work hours;
 - direct an employee to perform different duties than they usually perform;
 - direct employees to work at a different location than they usually would;
