I must recommend that all wages (including executive and elected officer salaries) be set at ten thousand dollars, and that all income beyond that be payable in shares based on contribution so that they can profit from productivity and competitiveness of the company. It will of course be necessary to end the difference between small business and larger corporations when it comes to legislation requiring all to conform to the same rules of conduct.

Subsequently it is necessary to defend human rights with greater vigour. Every citizen has the right to an equal share of the benefits and obligations of citizenship. Subsequently it becomes necessary to protect those rights through greater force of Law. All Criminal Acts no matter how insignificant are an assault on the state and its obligations to all its citizens. Such an Assault is an act of Treason and must be Treated as such.

S Meaney